COULD YOU BE A TORCH CHAMPION?

Each week teachers are invited to nominate a TORCH champion from their subject, a student who has shown great character strengths in their learning. This week Miss Leach has nominated a student from KS3 and KS4 for their respect and hard work on pieces of artwork inspired by artists they are studying. You can see here a doughnut drawing, inspired by Wayne Thiebaud, by Jess Bradey in Year 7. Also, an amazing GCSE piece by Sophie Hibberd, Year 10, a photography response to Vanessa McKeown.

FEATURE TEACHER

We're sure you're missing your teachers, so our feature teacher section aims to help you find out information you might not already know about them. This week, our history teacher,

Miss Allen...

Teacher Journey: After completing my Master's degree in Education, I undertook my PGCE in Lincoln just last year. This year is my first year as a newly qualified teacher and I am over the moon to be doing this at The Suthers School.

Background: I am originally from Leicester (although not a Leicester city supporter!) I went on to study a joint honours degree in History and Education in Liverpool. Whilst undertaking my degree, I had the opportunity to go and teach in South Africa for a month, which was an incredible experience and really highlighted to me the power of education, no matter your starting point.

Subject Specialisms: I really enjoy teaching modern history which includes both the World Wars, as well as the Holocaust. Being able to create these units in my own way as certainly been one of the highlights this year!

Interesting fact: I am a twin! Whilst I dislike sharing birthday cake, it helps knowing I was born one minute before my brother.

WHAT ARE YOU COOKING?

A recipe to try at home this week...

#PANCAKEDAY

It's shrove Tuesday over half term, 16th February, and this week we have a tried and tested pancake recipe for you. Follow the link to take a look, they're delicious...

Send us your pancakes on Instagram @thesuthersschool

HOW ARE YOU FEELING?

It's been a half term full of screen time and the February holiday is the perfect time to take a screen-free break...

Read a book

Cook a meal

Play a board game

Spend time outside

Write a journal

Follow a yoga or meditation video

Remember to give your mind a break from the screen!

WHAT IS YOUR CHALLENGE?

A reminder that our TORCH challenge is live. You can access the challenge list via your year group Team. Remember to send your entries to your form tutor after half term.

WIN A BACKPACK FILLED WITH GOODIES

WHAT ARE YOU ACHIEVING?

Be a BEDROCK CHAMPION!
